How to get to Bayreuth:

By train:

As Bayreuth does not have a long-distance train station, the best way to reach the town is via Bamberg or Nuremberg (Nürnberg). From there you can take a local train connecting to Bayreuth (Bayreuth Hauptbahnhof). Sometimes, only one part of the train actually goes to Bayreuth and the other one is decoupled. So make sure that you entered the correct train with "Bayreuth" as destination.

More detailed information can be found on the Deutsche Bahn website here or in the "DB Navigator" application. There, you can also book your ticket.

By plane:

If you plan to come to Bayreuth by plane the nearest regional airport is in Nuremberg (Nürnberg). From there you have to take a train to the main station (Nuremberg airport to Nuremberg main station) and then take a 1-hour-train to Bayreuth (Bayreuth Hauptbahnhof).

The better-connected airport in Munich might also be a good option. From there, you can reach Bayreuth within 3h 30min by train via Nuremberg. See detailed information about the train above.

By car:

The university is located right next to the Autobahn A9 exit Bayreuth south, so it is very easy to reach. There are plenty of parking spots at the university free of charge.
